Interests & Experiences

Why are you interested in serving on a board or commission?

It is my belief that all citizens should give back and be active participants in the community. Serving in civic organizations and on non-profit boards is very fulfilling and rewarding. Throughout my professional career, I have worked in the field of education in the areas of program development and administration; curriculum development; program evaluator; researcher and publisher; and as a professor and mentor. As a result of my experiences and knowledge, I have had the opportunity to impact the learning and development of students K-16, adults and educational stakeholders. Although retired, I am willing and still enthusiastic about serving my community.
