Interests & Experiences

Why are you interested in serving on a board or commission?

To Whom It May Concern, I am in my 4th year of supervising schools and programs in Guilford County Schools, and one of those programs is the Juvenile Detention Center. My role also includes developing and supervising the budget for the facility, as it relates to educational services. I have seen young men and women come and go from that facility, and I have had the pleasure of interacting with these children, as well as the staff who care for them and educate them. Since I began my work with them, we have been able to help several students graduate from GCS while they have been in the facility. We have partnered with the facility to ensure that students have access to experienced teachers, as well as educational resources to support to them while they are in the facility, and when they return to their school community. These young men and women have shared their goals, dreams, and aspirations with me in conversations. They all desire to do well and make good choices in life. It is my belief that all children want to be better and do better. Sometimes, goals and dreams are derailed because of choices, or lack of choices and opportunities. I have been committed to helping young men and women overcome adversity and achieve educational success my entire career. I would be honored to use my experiences and passion for this work to continue to help children make life changing decisions. I believe that this council is working towards providing choices, opportunities, and resources, to help young men and women overcome the challenges the society brings I sense that my own personal values, along with my professional record, demonstrate my passion and ability for leading change and improving organizational effectiveness on behalf of children, while significantly improving life outcome. My success as a school leader has been a result of my ability to work cooperatively with the students, staff, district leaders, school board members, parents, businesses, governmental bodies, and the community to produce positive results for all children. I would be honored to contribute to the work this council is already doing, and that is why I would be grateful to serve as a member of Juvenile Crime Prevention Council
